FREE GUIDE · 2026 EDITION

25
AI TOOLS
+
250
ELITE PROMPTS

you can start using today, no matter what you do. Plus one complete AI workflow, free.

2026

AI SHORTCUT
by Alex

AI SHORTCUT · FREE EDITION

25 AI Tools + 250 Elite Prompts

The 2026 field guide to working smarter with AI

2026 edition · updated October 2026 · by Alex, AI Shortcut

YOURS TO USE

Use every prompt in this guide for your own work, as often as you like. Tool features, plans and prices change often, so always check the tool's own website.

ABOUT THE LINKS

The Make.com and ElevenLabs links are affiliate links, marked clearly. You won't pay anything extra, but using them supports my work.

NOT PROFESSIONAL ADVICE

Prompts about money, health, law and careers help you prepare and think clearly. They don't replace a qualified professional. Check important decisions with one.

HOW TO USE A PROMPT

Select the text in a prompt box, copy it, paste it into your AI chat, then replace every `[bracket]` with your real details.

© 2026 AI Shortcut. All rights reserved. Tool prices checked October 2026. Example outputs are illustrative and use made-up numbers.

CONTENTS

What's inside

Before you dive in 4

The anatomy of an elite prompt 5

PART 1 25 AI Tools

1. Text & Content 7
2. Images 7
3. Video & Audio 8
4. Productivity & Automation 8
5. Marketing & Social Media 8
6. Websites & Apps 9
7. Research & Everyday Use 9

PART 2 250 Elite Prompts

01 Career & Job Hunting — Prompts 1 to 25 — 11
02 Money & Finance — Prompts 26 to 50 — 17
03 Business & Side Hustles — Prompts 51 to 75 — 23
04 Marketing & Sales — Prompts 76 to 100 — 29
05 Content & Social Media — Prompts 101 to 125 — 35
06 Productivity & Focus — Prompts 126 to 150 — 41
07 Learning & Studying — Prompts 151 to 175 — 47
08 Communication & Negotiation — Prompts 176 to 200 — 53
09 Health, Fitness & Habits — Prompts 201 to 225 — 59
10 Life, Mindset & Relationships — Prompts 226 to 250 — 65

PART 3 The next level FREE SAMPLE

Workflow 001: Fix Your Finances in One Sunday 72

A look inside: an AI agent and an automation 76

Get the full toolkit 77

Follow AI Shortcut 78

WELCOME

Before you dive in

Hey, it's Alex.

Most people use AI like a search engine. They type a quick question, get a generic answer, and decide AI is overrated. The difference between that and a genuinely useful answer is almost never the tool. It's the prompt.

This guide gives you both sides. Part 1 is 25 AI tools worth knowing in 2026, grouped by what you want to get done, with what each one costs. Part 2 is the heart of the book: 250 elite prompts across 10 areas of life and work. Each one gives the AI a sharp role, a clear task, a proven framework and a specific output.

Don't read it front to back. Jump to the chapter that matches what you're working on today, pick one prompt, and try it. That's the fastest way to see what AI can really do.

Alex

AI SHORTCUT

WHEN ONE PROMPT ISN'T ENOUGH

One prompt gets you one good answer. Chain a few together and you get a finished result: a budget that works, a CV that gets interviews, a month of content. That's what my AI Workflow Toolkit 2026 is built on. To show you the difference, there's one complete workflow from it in Part 3, page 72, free.

Jump to the free workflow →
See the toolkit on Gumroad →

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

The anatomy of an elite prompt

Every prompt in this book is built from the same five parts. Once you see them, you can write your own.

ROLE	Who should the AI be?	"Act as a senior recruiter who spends 6 seconds per CV." A specific expert, with a specific mindset, gives specific answers.
PRESSURE	Stop it being nice	"Give me 5 brutal reasons you'd reject me." Asking for criticism first stops the AI from just agreeing with you.
FRAMEWORK	Point it at what works	"Use anchoring and loss aversion." Naming a proven method pulls the answer toward what actually works.
OUTPUT	Make it usable	"Rewrite it, max 200 words, as a table." A clear format means you can use the result straight away.
SCORE	Make it judge itself	"Score old vs new out of 10." A score forces the AI to judge its own work, and tells you what to improve next.

THREE FOLLOW-UPS THAT MAKE ANY PROMPT BETTER

"Ask me questions first."
Add this to any prompt and the AI will gather context before answering.

"Make it a 10 out of 10."
After the first answer, ask it to find the weakest part and fix it.

"Now make it shorter."
The second draft is almost always better than the first.

THE ONE RULE

Never use a prompt empty. Fill in every `[bracket]` with real details and paste in your actual text, data or situation. Specific input is what turns a good prompt into an elite one.

Works in ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini and any other AI assistant.

PART 1

1

25 AI Tools

The tools worth knowing in 2026, grouped by what you want to get done.

01 · Text & Content

02 · Images

03 · Video & Audio

04 · Productivity & Automation

05 · Marketing & Social Media

06 · Websites & Apps

07 · Research & Everyday Use

PART 1 · 25 AI TOOLS

The 25 tools

The tools worth knowing in 2026, grouped by what you want to get done. You don't need all of them: start with one chat assistant and add a tool only when a task needs it.

CATEGORY 1 OF 7

Text & Content

CG — ChatGPT
The all-in-one assistant: writing, ideas, images, voice and custom GPTs.
Free / Plus $20 a month

CL — Claude
Careful writing that sounds human, long documents and Projects with your own files.
Free / from $17 a month

GA — Gamma
Turns a prompt or your notes into slides, a document or a simple web page.
Free / from $9 a month

GR — Grammarly
Grammar, clarity and tone checks wherever you write.
Free / from $12 a month

CATEGORY 2 OF 7

Images

MJ — Midjourney
Artistic and photorealistic images with a strong style.
From $10 a month

ID — Ideogram
Strong at text inside images, like logos, posters and thumbnails.
Free / from $15 a month

CA — Canva AI
Design, templates and AI images in one tool. Great for carousels.
Free / from $15 a month

CATEGORY 3 OF 7

Video & Audio

VE — Google Veo
Text to video with sound, right inside the Gemini app.
With Google AI Pro

EL — ElevenLabs
Realistic AI voices, voiceovers and voice cloning in 70+ languages.
Free / from $6 a month
Try it free here (affiliate link) →

OC — Opus Clip
Finds the best moments in a long video and cuts them into shorts.
Free / from $15 a month

DE — Descript
Edit video and podcasts by editing the transcript.
Free / from $16 a month

SU — Suno
AI music, jingles and background tracks from a prompt.
Free / from $8 a month

CC — CapCut
Video editing with auto captions, made for short-form.
Free / paid Pro plan

CATEGORY 4 OF 7

Productivity & Automation

MK — Make.com
Visual automation builder that connects your apps, with AI steps inside.
Free / from $9 a month
Try it free here (affiliate link) →

ZA — Zapier
Connect apps and automate simple tasks between them.
Free / from $20 a month

NO — Notion AI
Notes, docs and planning with AI built in.
Free trial / Business $20 a month

MO — Motion
AI that plans your calendar and tasks for you.
From $29 a month

CATEGORY 5 OF 7

Marketing & Social Media

BU — Buffer
Schedule posts on every platform, with AI caption help.
Free / from $5 a month per channel

SE — Surfer SEO
Optimizes articles so they rank in Google.
From $79 a month

ML — MailerLite
Email marketing with AI help for subject lines and content.
Free up to 500 subscribers

CATEGORY 6 OF 7

Websites & Apps

LB — Lovable / Bolt.new
Build a working web app by describing it in plain words.
Free / from $25 a month

FR — Framer AI
Generate and publish a good-looking website from a prompt.
Free / from $10 a month

CATEGORY 7 OF 7

Research & Everyday Use

PX — Perplexity
AI search engine that shows its sources.
Free / from $20 a month

NB — NotebookLM
Answers only from documents you upload. Audio and video overviews.
Free

GE — Google Gemini
AI assistant built into Gmail, Docs and Drive.
Free / Google AI Pro $20 a month

Prices checked October 2026, lowest advertised plan, often with yearly billing. They change often, so check each tool's website. Tool names are trademarks of their owners; this guide isn't affiliated with or endorsed by them. The Make.com and ElevenLabs links are affiliate links.

PART 2

2

250 Elite Prompts

10 chapters. 25 prompts each. Copy, fill in the brackets, and go.

01 · Career & Job Hunting

02 · Money & Finance

03 · Business & Side Hustles

04 · Marketing & Sales

05 · Content & Social Media

06 · Productivity & Focus

07 · Learning & Studying

08 · Communication & Negotiation

09 · Health, Fitness & Habits

10 · Life, Mindset & Relationships

CHAPTER 01 · PROMPTS 1 TO 25

01

Career & Job Hunting

Get hired, get promoted, get paid what you're worth.

> PRO TIP
> Paste the real thing. A prompt about your CV works far better when the actual CV and job description are in the same message.

1	The 6-Second CV Test	2	The Unrefusable Raise
3	The Interview Stress Test	4	The Recruiter-Magnet Profile
5	The Cover Letter That Gets Read	6	The Offer Counter
7	The Career Pivot Map	8	The Promotion-Ready Self Review
9	The Cold Message They Answer	10	The First 90 Days
11	The Promotion Committee	12	The Honest Weakness
13	The Offer Showdown	14	The Bridge-Keeping Exit
15	The Portfolio Edit	16	The Difficult Boss Playbook
17	The Freelance Rate Reset	18	The 30-Second Pitch
19	The AI-Proof Career	20	The Real Rejection Reason
21	The Easy Referral	22	The Meeting Presence Kit
23	The Job Diagnosis	24	The Known-For Statement
25	The Flexible Work Proposal

1 The 6-Second CV Test

PROMPT

Act as a senior recruiter who spends 6 seconds per CV. Tell me where your eyes land first and 5 brutal reasons you'd reject me. Then rewrite my CV using exact keywords from [job description] to beat the ATS, with my strongest achievement first. Score old vs new out of 10.

2 The Unrefusable Raise

PROMPT

Act as a compensation manager who rejects most raise requests in 10 seconds. Give me 5 reasons you'd say no to [my request]. Then rewrite it using anchoring, loss aversion, and my strongest proof of value first. Score old vs new out of 10.

3 The Interview Stress Test

PROMPT

Act as the toughest hiring manager at [company]. Ask me the 10 questions most likely to expose my weaknesses for [role], one at a time. After each answer, score it out of 10, name the red flag you heard, and give me a stronger version.

4 The Recruiter-Magnet Profile

PROMPT

Act as a recruiter searching LinkedIn for [role]. Rewrite my headline and About section [paste] so I show up in searches and get clicked. Use the keywords recruiters actually type, lead with a measurable result, and cut every buzzword. Give 3 versions ranked by click potential.

5 The Cover Letter That Gets Read

PROMPT

Act as a hiring manager who read 300 generic cover letters today. Tell me the exact line where you stopped reading mine [paste]. Then rewrite it for [job] so the first sentence proves I understand their biggest problem. Max 200 words, one hard number, zero cliches.

6 The Offer Counter

PROMPT

Act as a negotiation coach. I got an offer of [amount] for [role] in [city]. Give me the likely market range, the exact number to counter with, and a word-for-word email. Then role-play the recruiter pushing back 3 times so I can practice.

7 The Career Pivot Map

PROMPT

Act as a career strategist. I'm a [current job] moving into [target field]. Map my transferable skills, the 3 fastest credible entry points, and the one gap that will get me rejected. Build a 90-day plan with weekly actions.

8 The Promotion-Ready Self Review

PROMPT

Act as my manager preparing my annual review. Based on [my wins this year], write the self-review that makes promotion the obvious decision. Quantify every result, tie each to company goals, and flag any claim a skeptical director would challenge.

9 The Cold Message They Answer

PROMPT

Act as a [industry] executive who ignores 95% of cold messages. Tell me why you'd ignore this one: [message]. Then rewrite it in under 60 words with a specific reason I chose you and an ask that takes under 2 minutes to say yes to.

10 The First 90 Days

PROMPT

Act as a CEO coach. I just started as [role] at [company type]. Plan my first 90 days: who to meet, which quick wins to deliver by day 30, and the mistakes that quietly kill a new hire's credibility. Put it in a week-by-week table.

11 The Promotion Committee

PROMPT

Act as the promotion committee at [company]. List the 5 reasons you'd delay my promotion to [level]. Then build my case as a one-page memo: impact first, evidence second, and the cost to the team if I leave third.

12 The Honest Weakness

PROMPT

Act as an interview coach. Turn my real weakness, [weakness], into an answer that sounds honest and self-aware, not rehearsed. Show me the structure behind it, then give me a 45-second spoken version.

13 The Offer Showdown

PROMPT

Act as a brutally honest career advisor. Compare [offer A] and [offer B] on pay, growth, stability, learning, and quality of life, weighted by what I value: [priorities]. Tell me which one I'll regret not taking in 3 years.

14 The Bridge-Keeping Exit

PROMPT

Act as an HR director. Write my resignation email for [situation] that keeps every door open. Then give me the 3 things I should never say in the exit conversation and what to say instead.

15 The Portfolio Edit

PROMPT

Act as a creative director reviewing portfolios for [role]. Tell me which of my projects [list] to cut, which should open, and what story the order should tell. Rewrite each description as problem, my decision, result.

16 The Difficult Boss Playbook

PROMPT

Act as an executive coach. My manager [describe behavior]. Diagnose what's really driving it, give me 3 approaches from safest to boldest, and write the exact opening sentence for the conversation I've been avoiding.

17 The Freelance Rate Reset

PROMPT

Act as a pricing consultant for freelancers in [field]. I charge [rate]. Tell me if I'm underpriced, calculate what I need to charge to earn [income goal] with realistic billable hours, and write how to announce the new rate to existing clients.

18 The 30-Second Pitch

PROMPT

Act as an investor who gives me 30 seconds at a networking event. Rewrite my intro [current intro] so you'd ask a follow-up question. Use one concrete result, one surprising detail, and end on a hook. Give 3 versions for different audiences.

19 The AI-Proof Career

PROMPT

Act as a labor market analyst. For my role, [role], tell me which tasks AI will likely take over in the next 3 years, which skills become more valuable, and the 3 things I should start learning this month to stay ahead.

20 The Real Rejection Reason

PROMPT

Act as the recruiter who just rejected me for [role]. Based on my CV and interview notes [paste], tell me the real reasons I wasn't picked, the ones nobody says out loud. Then give me 3 changes that would flip the decision next time.

21 The Easy Referral

PROMPT

Act as an employee at [company] who gets asked for referrals every week. Write the message that makes referring me easy and low risk: a 3-line summary of fit, a ready-to-forward blurb, and a graceful exit if they say no.

22 The Meeting Presence Kit

PROMPT

Act as a communication coach for introverts. Give me 5 phrases to confidently enter a meeting discussion, disagree without friction, and get credit for my ideas. Explain when to use each one.

23 The Job Diagnosis

PROMPT

Act as a career psychologist. Ask me 7 sharp questions about my job, one at a time. Then tell me whether my real problem is the role, the company, the manager, or me, and what to change first.

24 The Known-For Statement

PROMPT

Act as a personal branding strategist. Based on [my expertise], define what I should be known for in one sentence, 3 content pillars, and 10 post ideas that prove my expertise instead of claiming it.

25 The Flexible Work Proposal

PROMPT

Act as a skeptical director. I want to ask for [remote or flexible arrangement]. Give 5 objections you'd raise, then write my proposal with a trial period, measurable output targets, and a low-risk path to yes.

CHAPTER 02 · PROMPTS 26 TO 50

02

Money & Finance

Stop the leaks, build the buffer, grow what's left.

PRO TIP

AI can do the math, but it only knows what you tell it. Real numbers in, real plan out. And for big legal or tax decisions, check with a professional.

26	The Leak Finder	27	The Debt Escape Plan
28	The Spending Psychologist	29	The Safety Net
30	The Subscription Purge	31	Investing From Zero
32	The Need-or-Impulse Test	33	The Bill Slasher
34	The Money Script	35	The Goal Stack
36	The Extra Income Finder	37	The Autopilot Money System
38	The Painless Cut	39	The Couple's Money Deal
40	The Retirement Reality Check	41	The Missed Deductions
42	The Bad Deal Detector	43	The Scam Autopsy
44	The Net Worth Ritual	45	The Windfall Plan
46	Rent vs Buy, Settled	47	The True Cost of a Car
48	The No-Spend Challenge	49	The Graceful No
50	Your Personal CFO Report

26 The Leak Finder

PROMPT

Act as a no-nonsense financial planner. My monthly income is [amount] and my expenses are [list]. Find the 5 biggest leaks, rank them by yearly savings, and build a budget using the 50/30/20 rule adjusted to my reality. Show it as a table.

27 The Debt Escape Plan

PROMPT

Act as a debt payoff strategist. My debts: [list with balances and interest rates]. Compare snowball vs avalanche for my situation, show total interest and payoff date for each, and tell me which one I'll actually stick with.

28 The Spending Psychologist

PROMPT

Act as a behavioral economist. Analyze my last month of spending [paste]. Identify the psychological triggers behind my worst purchases and give me 5 friction rules that make overspending harder without feeling restrictive.

29 The Safety Net

PROMPT

Act as a financial coach. Calculate how big my emergency fund should be based on [expenses, job stability, dependents]. Build a plan to reach it in [months] with automatic transfers and a clear rule for what counts as an emergency.

30 The Subscription Purge

PROMPT

Act as a ruthless subscription auditor. Here are my subscriptions: [list]. For each one, say keep, cancel, downgrade, or share, with the yearly savings. Then write a script to negotiate a lower price on the ones I keep.

31 Investing From Zero

PROMPT

Act as an investing teacher for complete beginners. Explain index funds, ETFs, compound interest, and fees using simple numbers for someone investing [amount] per month. Show what it could grow to in 10, 20, and 30 years at different returns. No product picks.

32 The Need-or-Impulse Test

PROMPT

Act as a skeptical financial advisor. I want to buy [item] for [price]. Ask me 5 questions to test if it's a need or an impulse, calculate the true cost including opportunity cost, and give me a verdict.

33 The Bill Slasher

PROMPT

Act as a customer retention insider who knows every trick companies use. Write word-for-word scripts to lower my [internet, phone, or insurance] bill, including exactly what to say when they refuse the first time.

34 The Money Script

PROMPT

Act as a money psychologist. Ask me 6 questions about how money was handled in my childhood, one at a time. Then name the money belief driving my decisions today and give me 3 exercises to rewrite it.

35 The Goal Stack

PROMPT

Act as a financial planner. My goals are [goals] and I save [amount] per month. Prioritize them, calculate a timeline for each, show the trade-offs, and tell me which goal to delay so the others happen faster.

36 The Extra Income Finder

PROMPT

Act as a financial strategist. I have [hours] per week and these skills: [skills]. Give me 10 realistic ways to earn an extra [amount] per month, ranked by speed to first payment, startup cost, and scalability.

37 The Autopilot Money System

PROMPT

Act as a personal finance expert. I earn [net income]. Build me a monthly money system: which accounts to use, what gets automated on payday, and exactly how much goes where. It has to run without willpower.

38 The Painless Cut

PROMPT

Act as a minimalist who lives well on little. Give me 15 ways to cut [amount] per month from [my lifestyle] that don't feel like sacrifice. Rank them by savings per minute of effort.

39 The Couple's Money Deal

PROMPT

Act as a financial mediator for couples. We earn [income A] and [income B] and argue about [issue]. Propose 3 fair systems for splitting costs and saving together, with pros and cons, plus a script to discuss it without a fight.

40 The Retirement Reality Check

PROMPT

Act as a retirement planner. I'm [age], have [savings], and save [amount] monthly. Tell me if I'm on track, what number I realistically need, and the 3 levers that would change my outcome most. Show your assumptions.

41 The Missed Deductions

PROMPT

Act as a tax educator for [country]. List the most commonly missed deductions for someone who is [employed, freelance, homeowner]. Explain each in one line and list the documents to collect. Remind me to verify with a professional.

42 The Bad Deal Detector

PROMPT

Act as a procurement expert. I need [product or service]. Give me a checklist to compare offers, the hidden costs sellers bury in the fine print, and the 3 questions that expose a bad deal before I sign.

43 The Scam Autopsy

PROMPT

Act as a fraud investigator. Analyze this investment offer or message: [paste]. List every red flag, rate the scam probability out of 10, and tell me exactly how to verify it independently.

44 The Net Worth Ritual

PROMPT

Act as a financial analyst. Build me a simple net worth tracker with categories for assets and debts, plus a 10-minute monthly review ritual. Tell me the 3 numbers I should watch every month and why.

45 The Windfall Plan

PROMPT

Act as a wealth advisor. I'm receiving [amount] from [bonus, inheritance, sale]. Give me a step-by-step plan for the first 90 days, the order to allocate it, and the classic mistakes people make with sudden money.

46 Rent vs Buy, Settled

PROMPT

Act as a housing economist. Compare renting vs buying for me: [price, rent, savings, city, years I plan to stay]. Include hidden costs, show the break-even year, and give a clear verdict with your assumptions.

47 The True Cost of a Car

PROMPT

Act as a car finance expert. Compare leasing, financing, and buying used for [car type] with a budget of [amount]. Show total cost over 5 years and tell me which option is quietly the most expensive.

48 The No-Spend Challenge

PROMPT

Act as a savings coach. Design a 30-day no-spend challenge built around my weak spots: [weak spots]. Include daily rules, allowed exceptions, a tracker, and what to do with the money I save.

49 The Graceful No

PROMPT

Act as a communication expert. Help me say no to [friend or family member] who wants to borrow [amount] without damaging the relationship. Give me 3 scripts: soft, firm, and a middle option with conditions.

50 Your Personal CFO Report

PROMPT

Act as my personal CFO. Based on my year [income, spending, savings, goals], write an annual report: what went right, what leaked, my savings rate, and 3 decisions for next year with a number attached to each.

CHAPTER 03 · PROMPTS 51 TO 75

03

Business & Side Hustles

Test ideas cheaply, launch fast, build something that lasts.

> PRO TIP
> Ask the AI to argue against you first. The fastest way to a good idea is killing the bad ones before they cost you money.

51	The VC Teardown	52	The 7-Day Validation
53	The Customer X-Ray	54	The Three-Tier Price
55	The Weekend Launch	56	The Gap Finder
57	The One-Page Plan	58	The No-Brainer Offer
59	The Repeatable Promise	60	The Name Generator
61	The Clone Yourself SOP	62	The Automation Audit
63	The First Hire	64	The Cash Crunch Radar
65	The First 10 Clients	66	The Bottleneck Breaker
67	The 10-Slide Deck	68	The Partner Pipeline
69	The Truth Interview	70	The Digital Product Sprint
71	The Complaint Turnaround	72	The Blind Spot SWOT
73	Kill, Keep, or Double Down	74	The Startup Admin Checklist
75	The Recurring Revenue Engine

51 The VC Teardown

PROMPT

Act as a venture capitalist who rejects 99% of pitches. Tear apart my business idea: [idea]. List the 5 reasons it fails, the assumption I haven't tested, and the cheapest experiment to test it this week. Score it out of 10.

52 The 7-Day Validation

PROMPT

Act as a lean startup coach. Design a 7-day validation plan for [idea] with a budget under [amount]. Tell me exactly what to build, who to show it to, and which number proves real demand.

53 The Customer X-Ray

PROMPT

Act as a market researcher. Build a customer profile for [product]: their daily frustrations, the exact words they use to describe the problem, what they've already tried, and what would make them pay today.

54 The Three-Tier Price

PROMPT

Act as a pricing strategist. My product [product] costs [cost] to deliver. Design 3 pricing tiers using anchoring and the decoy effect, name each tier, and explain which one most people will choose and why.

55 The Weekend Launch

PROMPT

Act as a serial entrepreneur. With [skills] and [budget], give me an hour-by-hour plan to launch a side hustle this weekend, from Saturday morning to Sunday night, ending with my first offer live.

56 The Gap Finder

PROMPT

Act as a competitive intelligence analyst. Analyze [competitors] for [my business]. Show where each one is weak, what their customers complain about, and the gap I can own. Present it as a positioning map.

57 The One-Page Plan

PROMPT

Act as a startup advisor. Turn [idea] into a one-page business plan: problem, customer, solution, revenue model, channels, costs, and the one metric that matters. No fluff, max 300 words.

58 The No-Brainer Offer

PROMPT

Act as an offer strategist. Turn my service [service] into an offer people feel stupid saying no to. Add a clear result, a timeframe, a guarantee, and bonuses that kill objections. Show before and after.

59 The Repeatable Promise

PROMPT

Act as a brand strategist. Write 5 one-sentence value propositions for [business] that a customer would repeat to a friend. Score each on clarity, uniqueness, and desire.

60 The Name Generator

PROMPT

Act as a naming agency. Generate 20 names for [business] that are short, easy to spell, and work as a domain. Group them by style and pick your top 3 with reasons.

61 The Clone Yourself SOP

PROMPT

Act as an operations consultant. Turn a task I repeat, [task], into a standard operating procedure someone else can follow on day one. Include steps, tools, quality checks, and common mistakes.

62 The Automation Audit

PROMPT

Act as an automation expert. Here's my weekly workflow: [list]. Identify which tasks AI or tools like Make and Zapier can automate, estimate the hours saved, and rank them by ease of setup.

63 The First Hire

PROMPT

Act as a startup COO. I'm ready to hire my first [role]. Write the job post, 5 interview questions that reveal real ability, and a paid test task. Tell me the red flags to watch for.

64 The Cash Crunch Radar

PROMPT

Act as a small business CFO. Based on [revenue, costs, payment terms], build a 90-day cash flow forecast, identify the month I'm most at risk, and give me 3 moves to avoid a cash crunch.

65 The First 10 Clients

PROMPT

Act as a growth consultant. I need my first [number] clients for [service]. Give me 5 channels ranked by speed, the exact message for each, and a daily outreach routine that fits in 45 minutes.

66 The Bottleneck Breaker

PROMPT

Act as a coach for solo founders. I earn [revenue] and work [hours]. Show me where I'm the bottleneck, what to delegate, automate, or delete, and how to double revenue without doubling my hours.

67 The 10-Slide Deck

PROMPT

Act as an investor. Outline a 10-slide pitch deck for [startup] with one sentence per slide on what it must prove. Tell me which slide investors will study longest and how to make it bulletproof.

68 The Partner Pipeline

PROMPT

Act as a business development lead. Identify 10 types of partners for [business] who serve my customers but don't compete with me. Write a partnership pitch that shows what's in it for them first.

69 The Truth Interview

PROMPT

Act as a product researcher. Write 10 customer interview questions for [product] that reveal real behavior, not polite opinions. Explain why each works and which answer should worry me.

70 The Digital Product Sprint

PROMPT

Act as a digital product creator. Based on my expertise in [topic], give me 5 digital product ideas with prices, then a plan to create and launch the best one in 14 days.

71 The Complaint Turnaround

PROMPT

Act as a customer experience director. A customer wrote: [complaint]. Write a response that solves the problem, keeps the customer, and turns them into a fan. Then name the process change that prevents it next time.

72 The Blind Spot SWOT

PROMPT

Act as a consultant paid to find what I'm blind to. Do a brutally honest SWOT for [business], then turn it into 3 strategic moves for the next 6 months with a measurable goal for each.

73 Kill, Keep, or Double Down

PROMPT

Act as a portfolio manager. Here are my products or projects: [list with revenue and time spent]. Tell me what to kill, keep, or double down on, using revenue per hour as the main metric.

74 The Startup Admin Checklist

PROMPT

Act as a startup educator. List the basic legal and admin steps to start [business] in [country]: registration, taxes, contracts, and insurance. Flag which ones need a professional.

75 The Recurring Revenue Engine

PROMPT

Act as a subscription business expert. Show me 5 ways to turn [one-time product or service] into recurring revenue. Estimate monthly income at [customer numbers] and tell me which model has the lowest churn.

CHAPTER 04 · PROMPTS 76 TO 100

04

Marketing & Sales

Words that sell, without sounding like a salesperson.

PRO TIP

Always ask for multiple versions and a ranking. The first draft is rarely the winner, and AI is surprisingly good at judging its own options.

76	The $10K Landing Page	77	The 30% Reply Email
78	The Objection Crusher	79	The 5-Angle Ad Test
80	The Welcome Sequence	81	20 Subject Lines
82	The Persuasion Audit	83	The Hero Brand Story
84	The Rankable Keywords	85	The Testimonial Magnet
86	The One-Line Positioning	87	The 14-Day Launch
88	The Discovery Call Script	89	The Follow-Up That Revives
90	The Leaky Funnel Fix	91	The Referral Engine
92	Features Into Feelings	93	The Perfect Upsell
94	The Price Increase Email	95	The Budget Allocator
96	The Webinar That Sells	97	The Review Responder
98	The Call Replay	99	The Underserved Niche
100	The Lead Magnet Lab

76 The $10K Landing Page

PROMPT

Act as a conversion copywriter who charges $10,000 per page. Tear apart my landing page [paste] and list the 5 reasons visitors leave. Then rewrite the headline, subheadline, and CTA, choosing clarity over cleverness. Score old vs new out of 10.

77 The 30% Reply Email

PROMPT

Act as a sales rep who books meetings from 30% of cold emails. Rewrite this email [paste] in under 90 words: a personal first line, one clear problem, one proof point, one easy ask. Explain each change in one sentence.

78 The Objection Crusher

PROMPT

Act as a top sales coach. List the 10 objections customers raise about [product] and give me a word-for-word response to each that acknowledges, reframes, and moves to the next step.

79 The 5-Angle Ad Test

PROMPT

Act as a performance marketer spending $1M a month on ads. Write 5 ads for [product] targeting [audience], each with a different angle: pain, desire, social proof, curiosity, urgency. Predict the winner and explain why.

80 The Welcome Sequence

PROMPT

Act as an email marketer. Write a 5-email welcome sequence for subscribers who downloaded [freebie]. Give each email one goal, a subject line built to get opened, and a soft path to [product].

81 20 Subject Lines

PROMPT

Act as an email expert. Write 20 subject lines for [email topic] using curiosity, specificity, and personal relevance. Rank the top 5 and explain what makes each one hard to ignore.

82 The Persuasion Audit

PROMPT

Act as a consumer psychologist. Audit my offer [describe] for social proof, scarcity, reciprocity, authority, and loss aversion. Tell me which principle I'm missing and exactly where to add it.

83 The Hero Brand Story

PROMPT

Act as a storytelling strategist. Turn my background [story] into a brand story where the customer is the hero and I'm the guide. Give me a 50-word and a 200-word version.

84 The Rankable Keywords

PROMPT

Act as an SEO strategist. For [website or topic], give me 20 keywords with buying intent, group them into clusters, and plan 5 articles that could realistically rank in 6 months, with title and search intent for each.

85 The Testimonial Magnet

PROMPT

Act as a customer success manager. Write a message asking happy clients for a testimonial, with 4 guided questions that make it easy to write a review full of specific results.

86 The One-Line Positioning

PROMPT

Act as a marketing strategist. My product [product] competes with [competitors]. Define my positioning in one sentence: for whom, which category, what difference, and why believe it. Then write 3 taglines.

87 The 14-Day Launch

PROMPT

Act as a launch strategist. Plan a 14-day launch for [product] to an audience of [size]. Day by day: what to post, what to email, and when to open the cart. Include the one metric to watch each day.

88 The Discovery Call Script

PROMPT

Act as a B2B sales trainer. Write a discovery call script for [service] that uncovers pain, budget, decision maker, and deadline without feeling like an interrogation. End with how to close for a next step.

89 The Follow-Up That Revives

PROMPT

Act as a sales pro. A prospect went silent after [situation]. Write 3 follow-ups over 2 weeks, each adding new value instead of just checking in. Make the last one a polite breakup email.

90 The Leaky Funnel Fix

PROMPT

Act as a growth marketer. Map the customer journey for [business] from stranger to repeat buyer. Show where most people drop off and give me one fix per stage.

91 The Referral Engine

PROMPT

Act as a referral marketing expert. Design a referral program for [business] customers will actually use: the reward, when to ask, the message, and how to track it. Estimate the impact.

92 Features Into Feelings

PROMPT

Act as a direct response copywriter. Turn these features [list] into benefits and then into emotional outcomes. Use a table: feature, benefit, what it means for their life.

93 The Perfect Upsell

PROMPT

Act as a revenue strategist. Suggest 5 upsells or cross-sells for customers who buy [product], the best moment to offer each, and a one-line pitch for every one.

94 The Price Increase Email

PROMPT

Act as a customer communication expert. Write an email announcing a price increase from [old] to [new] that keeps churn low. Lead with value, give a real reason, and reward loyal customers.

95 The Budget Allocator

PROMPT

Act as a CMO. I have [budget] per month for [business]. Split it across channels, explain the logic, set a target cost per customer, and tell me what to cut first if results lag after 30 days.

96 The Webinar That Sells

PROMPT

Act as a webinar strategist. Outline a 45-minute webinar on [topic] that teaches real value and naturally leads to [offer]. Include the hook, 3 teaching points, the transition, and the close.

97 The Review Responder

PROMPT

Act as a reputation manager. Write replies to these reviews: [paste]. Make the negative ones win back trust and the positive ones invite more reviews. Keep each under 60 words.

98 The Call Replay

PROMPT

Act as a sales manager reviewing call recordings. Here's my transcript: [paste]. Show me where I lost control of the conversation, the buying signal I missed, and what to say instead. Score the call out of 10.

99 The Underserved Niche

PROMPT

Act as a market analyst. Find 5 underserved niches for [product or skill] where people spend money but are badly served. For each, give the pain, where they hang out online, and the first offer to test.

100 The Lead Magnet Lab

PROMPT

Act as a lead generation expert. Give me 10 lead magnet ideas for [audience] that solve one specific problem in under 10 minutes. Rank them by perceived value and how naturally they lead to [paid product].

CHAPTER 05 · PROMPTS 101 TO 125

05

Content & Social Media

Stop the scroll, earn the follow, build the audience.

> PRO TIP
> Feed the AI your best-performing posts first. It will copy what already works for your audience instead of guessing.

101	20 Scroll-Stopping Hooks	102	The 30-Day Calendar
103	One Post, Five Platforms	104	The Viral Autopsy
105	The 45-Second Script	106	The Content Pillars
107	The 3-Second Bio	108	The Comment-Driving Caption
109	The Save-Worthy Carousel	110	The Honest Engagement Plan
111	The Growth Pattern Finder	112	The Story Post
113	The Click-Worthy Video	114	The 60% Open Newsletter
115	The Contrarian Takes	116	Comments Into Content
117	The Algorithm Brief	118	The Voice Clone Guide
119	The Faceless Formats	120	The Collab DM
121	The Small Account Sponsor Pitch	122	The 3-Hour Content Week
123	The Teaching Thread	124	The Trend Radar
125	The 9 out of 10 Edit

101 20 Scroll-Stopping Hooks

PROMPT

Act as a viral content strategist. Write 20 hooks for a video about [topic] using curiosity gaps, bold claims, and pattern interrupts. Rank the top 5 by scroll-stopping power and explain why each works.

102 The 30-Day Calendar

PROMPT

Act as a social media manager. Create a 30-day content calendar for [niche] on [platform]. Mix educational, personal, and promotional posts, write a hook for each, and mark the 5 with the highest viral potential.

103 One Post, Five Platforms

PROMPT

Act as a content repurposing expert. Turn this piece [paste] into an X thread, a LinkedIn post, an Instagram carousel outline, a short video script, and a newsletter intro. Adapt the tone for each platform.

104 The Viral Autopsy

PROMPT

Act as a content analyst. Break down why this post went viral: [paste or describe]. Identify the hook, structure, emotion, and share trigger. Then give me a template to recreate it for [my niche].

105 The 45-Second Script

PROMPT

Act as a short-form video scriptwriter. Write a 45-second script about [topic]: a hook in the first 2 seconds, one clear point, a retention loop in the middle, and a CTA that doesn't feel like one.

106 The Content Pillars

PROMPT

Act as a brand strategist. Based on [my expertise and audience], define 4 content pillars, the goal of each, and 10 post ideas per pillar. Flag which pillar drives followers and which drives sales.

107 The 3-Second Bio

PROMPT

Act as a profile optimization expert. Rewrite my [platform] bio [paste] so a new visitor knows in 3 seconds who I help, what they get, and why to follow. Give 5 versions under 150 characters.

108 The Comment-Driving Caption

PROMPT

Act as a social media copywriter. Write a caption for [post topic] that opens with a strong first line, delivers value in short lines, and ends with a question that drives comments. Give 3 tone variations.

109 The Save-Worthy Carousel

PROMPT

Act as a carousel designer. Outline a 10-slide carousel on [topic]: a hook slide that stops the scroll, one idea per slide, and a last slide that drives saves and shares. Write the exact text for every slide.

110 The Honest Engagement Plan

PROMPT

Act as a community manager. Give me 15 ways to boost comments and saves on [platform] without engagement bait, plus a daily 20-minute routine that grows an account in [niche].

111 The Growth Pattern Finder

PROMPT

Act as a social media growth consultant. Here are my last 10 posts with views and engagement: [data]. Find the pattern behind the winners and losers, and give me the 3 changes that would grow my account fastest.

112 The Story Post

PROMPT

Act as a storyteller. Turn this experience [experience] into a post with tension, a turning point, a lesson, and a takeaway for the reader. Under 200 words, no cliches.

113 The Click-Worthy Video

PROMPT

Act as a YouTube strategist. For a video about [topic], give me 10 titles and 5 thumbnail concepts that create curiosity without clickbait. Pick the best combination and explain the click psychology.

114 The 60% Open Newsletter

PROMPT

Act as a newsletter writer with a 60% open rate. Write this week's issue on [topic]: a subject line, a personal opener, one big idea, one actionable tip, and a sign-off readers look forward to.

115 The Contrarian Takes

PROMPT

Act as a thought leader in [niche]. Give me 10 contrarian but defensible opinions that will spark discussion. For each, give the argument, the evidence, and the pushback to expect.

116 Comments Into Content

PROMPT

Act as a content strategist. Here are comments and questions from my audience: [paste]. Turn them into 15 content ideas, each with a hook and the format that fits best.

117 The Algorithm Brief

PROMPT

Act as a platform algorithm expert. Explain what [platform] currently rewards, the ideal posting frequency and format for [niche], and the 5 mistakes that silently kill reach. Note what may have changed recently.

118 The Voice Clone Guide

PROMPT

Act as a brand voice consultant. Analyze these posts I wrote: [paste]. Define my voice in 3 words, list the phrases I overuse, and write a style guide I can give to any AI so it sounds like me.

119 The Faceless Formats

PROMPT

Act as a faceless content creator. Give me 10 faceless content formats for [niche] that can be produced with AI tools, the tools for each, and how long each one takes to make.

120 The Collab DM

PROMPT

Act as a creator partnerships manager. Write a DM pitching a collaboration to [creator] that proves I studied their content, offers value first, and proposes one specific idea. Under 80 words.

121 The Small Account Sponsor Pitch

PROMPT

Act as a creator who lands brand deals with a small audience. Write a sponsorship pitch to [brand] for my [platform] with [followers] followers. Lead with engagement and audience fit, not size, and include 2 content ideas.

122 The 3-Hour Content Week

PROMPT

Act as a productivity expert for creators. Design a batching system to create a full week of content for [platforms] in one 3-hour session. Include the order, templates, and what to prepare beforehand.

123 The Teaching Thread

PROMPT

Act as an expert in [topic]. Write a 10-part thread that teaches [concept] to a beginner in under 3 minutes. Each part must stand alone, and the first must make them need the rest.

124 The Trend Radar

PROMPT

Act as a trend forecaster. What conversations, formats, and questions are likely growing in [niche] right now? Give me 10 timely content angles with my own spin on each, and tell me which trends to verify first.

125 The 9 out of 10 Edit

PROMPT

Act as a ruthless content editor. Score this draft [paste] out of 10 on hook, clarity, value, and shareability. Point out the single line that loses readers, then rewrite the post to a 9.

CHAPTER 06 · PROMPTS 126 TO 150

06

Productivity & Focus

Do less, finish more, and actually log off.

> PRO TIP
> Productivity prompts work best when you describe your real day, including the messy parts. The AI can't fix the schedule you pretend to have.

126	The Brutal To-Do Filter	127	The Ideal Week
128	The Procrastination Breaker	129	The 30-Minute Morning
130	The Deep Work Protocol	131	The Meeting Massacre
132	The 20-Minute Weekly Review	133	The 90-Day OKR
134	The Inbox Escape	135	The Energy Map
136	The Decision Autopilot	137	The Project Breakdown
138	The Screen Time Cut	139	The Polite No Library
140	The Second Brain	141	The Delegation Brief
142	The Custom Focus Method	143	The Shutdown Ritual
144	The Life Automation List	145	The Overwhelm Reset
146	The 80/20 Cut	147	The Pre-Mortem
148	The Pilot's Checklist	149	The Year-End Reset
150	The Time Audit

126 The Brutal To-Do Filter

PROMPT

Act as a productivity coach for high performers. Here's my to-do list: [list]. Sort it with the Eisenhower matrix, tell me what to delete, delegate, or batch, and name the 3 tasks that actually move the needle today.

127 The Ideal Week

PROMPT

Act as a time management expert. Design my ideal week based on [work hours, priorities, energy peaks]. Use time blocking, protect deep work, and add buffer time. Show it as a weekly table.

128 The Procrastination Breaker

PROMPT

Act as a behavioral psychologist. I keep avoiding [task]. Ask me 3 questions to find out why, then give me a 2-minute starting ritual and a setup that makes starting easier than avoiding.

129 The 30-Minute Morning

PROMPT

Act as a performance coach. Build me a 30-minute morning routine based on [goals, wake time, constraints]. Every step needs a clear reason. Cut anything that's productivity theater.

130 The Deep Work Protocol

PROMPT

Act as a focus expert. Design a deep work system for [type of work]: session length, environment, phone rules, and a shutdown ritual. Include how to recover when I get distracted.

131 The Meeting Massacre

PROMPT

Act as an efficiency consultant. Here are my recurring meetings: [list]. Tell me which to cancel, shorten, or replace with async updates, and write the message proposing it without offending anyone.

132 The 20-Minute Weekly Review

PROMPT

Act as a Getting Things Done expert. Create a 20-minute weekly review template: what to reflect on, what to plan, and 5 questions that keep me honest about my priorities.

133 The 90-Day OKR

PROMPT

Act as a goal-setting strategist. Turn my vague goal [goal] into a 90-day OKR with 3 measurable key results, weekly lead actions, and a checkpoint to kill or adjust it.

134 The Inbox Escape

PROMPT

Act as an inbox zero expert. Build a system to handle [number] emails a day in under 30 minutes: rules, folders, and when to check. Add 5 reply templates for my most common emails: [types].

135 The Energy Map

PROMPT

Act as an energy management coach. Based on my day [describe], map my energy peaks and dips, and reschedule my tasks so the hardest work lands in my best hours.

136 The Decision Autopilot

PROMPT

Act as a decision scientist. List the recurring decisions in my life [describe] that drain me, and turn each one into a default rule so I never have to decide it again.

137 The Project Breakdown

PROMPT

Act as a project manager. Break [project] into phases, tasks, and 30-minute next actions, with deadlines working back from [date]. Flag the risks and the task most likely to be underestimated.

138 The Screen Time Cut

PROMPT

Act as a digital minimalist. Here's my screen time data: [data]. Create a 14-day plan to cut it by 50%, with app rules, replacement habits, and what to do when the cravings hit.

139 The Polite No Library

PROMPT

Act as a boundaries coach. Give me 10 polite but firm ways to say no to [type of requests], plus one quick rule to decide what deserves a yes.

140 The Second Brain

PROMPT

Act as a knowledge management expert. Design a simple notes system in [tool] for someone who [describe]. Include folder structure, naming rules, and a weekly habit that keeps it useful.

141 The Delegation Brief

PROMPT

Act as a leadership coach. Help me delegate [task] to [person]. Write the brief with context, expected outcome, deadline, and decision rights, and tell me how to check in without micromanaging.

142 The Custom Focus Method

PROMPT

Act as a focus scientist. Design a focus technique for someone who is [easily distracted, has ADHD, does long tasks], instead of standard Pomodoro. Include session length, break activities, and a reward system.

143 The Shutdown Ritual

PROMPT

Act as a work-life balance coach. Create a 10-minute end-of-day ritual that clears my head, captures open loops, and sets up tomorrow so I can actually switch off.

144 The Life Automation List

PROMPT

Act as a personal automation expert. List 15 recurring tasks in my life [describe] and show which ones AI or simple tools can automate. Give setup steps for the top 3.

145 The Overwhelm Reset

PROMPT

Act as a calm, practical coach. I feel overwhelmed by [situation]. Help me brain-dump everything, sort it into now, next, later, and never, then give me one step I can finish in 10 minutes.

146 The 80/20 Cut

PROMPT

Act as a Pareto analyst. Here are all my activities for [goal]: [list]. Identify the 20% that creates 80% of results and the tasks I should stop entirely. Give me a new weekly plan.

147 The Pre-Mortem

PROMPT

Act as a risk analyst. Run a pre-mortem on my plan: [plan]. Imagine it failed 6 months from now. List the 7 most likely reasons, rank them by probability, and give a prevention step for each.

148 The Pilot's Checklist

PROMPT

Act as an aviation safety expert who designs checklists. Create a checklist for [recurring process] that prevents the mistakes I keep making: [mistakes]. Keep it under 10 items.

149 The Year-End Reset

PROMPT

Act as a strategic life planner. Ask me 10 reflective questions about this year, one at a time. Then turn my answers into 3 themes and clear priorities for next year.

150 The Time Audit

PROMPT

Act as a time auditor. Here's how I spent last week: [log]. Show where my hours went, what it cost me in progress toward [goal], and the 3 swaps that would free up 5 hours a week.

CHAPTER 07 · PROMPTS 151 TO 175

07

Learning & Studying

Learn anything faster and actually remember it.

> PRO TIP
> Don't just ask for explanations. Ask the AI to quiz you. Being tested beats rereading every single time.

151	The 3-Level Explanation	152	The Feynman Check
153	The 80/20 Skill Plan	154	The Adaptive Quiz
155	The Exam Countdown	156	The Book in 10 Ideas
157	The Language Partner	158	The Mental Model Toolkit
159	The Flashcard Factory	160	The Socratic Mirror
161	The 20-Hour Skill	162	The Analogy Engine
163	The Topic Map	164	The Tough Professor
165	The Job-Ready Roadmap	166	The Memory Palace
167	The BS Detector	168	The Kid-Proof Lesson
169	Read Less, Remember More	170	The Case Study Challenge
171	The Polymath Bridge	172	The Debate Prep
173	The Hint-Only Tutor	174	The Knowledge Gap Scan
175	Transcript to Notes

151 The 3-Level Explanation

PROMPT

Act as a world-class teacher. Explain [topic] at 3 levels: like I'm 10, like I'm a college student, and like I'm an expert. End with the one insight most people miss.

152 The Feynman Check

PROMPT

Act as a Feynman technique coach. Here's my explanation of [concept]: [explanation]. Find the gaps, vague parts, and misconceptions, then question me until I truly understand it.

153 The 80/20 Skill Plan

PROMPT

Act as a learning strategist. I want to learn [skill]. Identify the 20% of concepts that deliver 80% of the results and build a 30-day plan with daily 30-minute sessions and weekly milestones.

154 The Adaptive Quiz

PROMPT

Act as a strict examiner. Quiz me on [topic] with 10 questions, one at a time, getting harder as I answer correctly. After each answer, explain what I got wrong and why.

155 The Exam Countdown

PROMPT

Act as an exam coach. My [subject] exam is in [days] days and I can study [hours] per day. Build a study plan using spaced repetition and active recall, with review days and a mock exam.

156 The Book in 10 Ideas

PROMPT

Act as a book analyst. Give me the 10 core ideas of [book], one practical application for each, and the ideas critics disagree with. Finish with a 3-sentence summary I'll remember.

157 The Language Partner

PROMPT

Act as a [language] tutor. Chat with me at [level] about [topic]. Correct my mistakes after each reply, explain the rule briefly, and introduce 3 useful new phrases each round.

158 The Mental Model Toolkit

PROMPT

Act as a thinking coach. Teach me 5 mental models that would improve my decisions in [area]. For each, give a one-line definition, a real example, and a question to apply it.

159 The Flashcard Factory

PROMPT

Act as a memory expert. Turn these notes [paste] into 20 active-recall flashcards. Keep questions specific and answers short, and add a mnemonic for the hardest ones.

160 The Socratic Mirror

PROMPT

Act as Socrates. I believe [belief]. Question me one step at a time until I see the strengths and weaknesses of my view. Don't give me answers, only questions.

161 The 20-Hour Skill

PROMPT

Act as a skill acquisition expert. I want to get decent at [skill] in 20 hours. Break the skill down, remove the barriers to practice, and give me a practice plan with built-in feedback.

162 The Analogy Engine

PROMPT

Act as a master of analogies. Explain [complex topic] with 3 different analogies from everyday life, and tell me exactly where each analogy breaks down.

163 The Topic Map

PROMPT

Act as a research assistant. Give me a structured overview of [topic]: key concepts, main debates, the most important thinkers, and 5 open questions. Mark anything I should double-check.

164 The Tough Professor

PROMPT

Act as a tough university professor. Grade my essay [paste] out of 10 on argument, evidence, structure, and style. Mark the weakest paragraph and show me how to rewrite it.

165 The Job-Ready Roadmap

PROMPT

Act as a senior [profession]. Build a roadmap from beginner to job-ready in [field]: skills in order, free resources, projects to build, and how to know I'm ready for each next step.

166 The Memory Palace

PROMPT

Act as a memory champion. Help me memorize [list or information] with a memory palace. Build it step by step with vivid images I won't forget.

167 The BS Detector

PROMPT

Act as a critical thinking instructor. Analyze this article or claim [paste] for logical fallacies, missing evidence, and bias. Rate its credibility out of 10 and tell me what would change your rating.

168 The Kid-Proof Lesson

PROMPT

Act as a creative educator. Turn [topic] into a fun 15-minute lesson for a [age]-year-old, with a story, an activity, and 3 questions to check understanding.

169 Read Less, Remember More

PROMPT

Act as a reading coach. Give me a system to read and retain [type of material]: how to preview, take notes, and review so I still remember the key ideas a month later.

170 The Case Study Challenge

PROMPT

Act as a business school professor. Create a case study about [situation] with a dilemma, data, and 3 options. Ask me what I'd do, then challenge my reasoning.

171 The Polymath Bridge

PROMPT

Act as a polymath. Show me 5 surprising connections between [field A] and [field B], and how each insight could help me with [my goal].

172 The Debate Prep

PROMPT

Act as a debate coach. Give me the 5 strongest arguments for and against [position], the best evidence for each, and a counter to the argument my opponent is most likely to use.

173 The Hint-Only Tutor

PROMPT

Act as a patient tutor. Help me solve [problem] step by step without giving me the answer. Give hints only when I'm stuck, and at the end explain the underlying principle.

174 The Knowledge Gap Scan

PROMPT

Act as a diagnostic tester. Ask me 8 questions on [subject], from basic to advanced. Based on my answers, map what I know, what I half know, and what to learn next.

175 Transcript to Notes

PROMPT

Act as a note-taking expert. Turn this transcript [paste] into structured notes: key ideas, actionable takeaways, quotes worth saving, and 3 questions to reflect on.

CHAPTER 08 · PROMPTS 176 TO 200

08

Communication & Negotiation

Say it clearly, say it once, and get the yes.

PRO TIP

Before you send anything important, paste it in and ask: "How will this land with the person reading it?" That one question saves a lot of awkward follow-ups.

176	The Hostile Review	177	The Hard Conversation
178	The Negotiator's Prep	179	The Persuasion Rewrite
180	The Feedback Script	181	The Tone Check
182	The TED-Style Talk	183	The Real Apology
184	Beyond Small Talk	185	The Buyer's Script
186	The Capacity No	187	The Stage Fright Fix
188	The Executive Summary	189	The Difficult Person Sim
190	The 2-Minute Story	191	The Landlord Letter
192	Steelman the Other Side	193	The 40% Cut
194	The Difficult Client	195	The Easy Yes Favor
196	The Body Language Brief	197	The Meeting That Decides
198	The Crisis Statement	199	The Misunderstanding Fix
200	Influence Without Authority

176 The Hostile Review

PROMPT

Act as the most skeptical decision-maker possible. Find every weakness, unsupported assumption, and emotional appeal in my request: [request]. Give me 5 arguments against it, then rewrite it with the strongest evidence first, specific numbers, and a low-risk path to yes. Score both out of 10.

177 The Hard Conversation

PROMPT

Act as a conflict resolution expert. I need to talk to [person] about [issue]. Write my opening, predict their 3 most likely reactions, and give me a calm response to each.

178 The Negotiator's Prep

PROMPT

Act as a former FBI hostage negotiator. Prepare me for [negotiation]. Give me my anchor, my walk-away point, 3 calibrated questions, and a label for the emotion they'll most likely feel.

179 The Persuasion Rewrite

PROMPT

Act as a persuasion expert. Rewrite my message [paste] to convince [audience] using Cialdini's principles. Tell me which principle each sentence uses and cut anything that sounds pushy.

180 The Feedback Script

PROMPT

Act as a leadership coach. Help me give critical feedback to [person] about [issue] using the Situation-Behavior-Impact model. Write the exact words and how to respond if they get defensive.

181 The Tone Check

PROMPT

Act as a communication expert. Read this email [paste] as the recipient would. Tell me how it lands, which phrases sound passive aggressive or weak, and rewrite it to be clear, warm, and firm.

182 The TED-Style Talk

PROMPT

Act as a TED talk coach. Structure a [minutes]-minute talk on [topic]: an opening that grabs attention, 3 key points with stories, and a close people remember. Mark where to pause.

183 The Real Apology

PROMPT

Act as an emotional intelligence expert. Help me apologize to [person] for [situation]. Make it sincere, take full responsibility without over-apologizing, and include how I'll make it right.

184 Beyond Small Talk

PROMPT

Act as a charisma coach. Give me 15 conversation starters for [situation] that go beyond small talk, plus the follow-up technique that makes people feel truly heard.

185 The Buyer's Script

PROMPT

Act as a professional buyer. I want to buy [item] listed at [price]. Give me my opening offer, 3 leverage points, and what to say when the seller claims it's their final price.

186 The Capacity No

PROMPT

Act as an executive communication coach. My manager asked me to [request] but I'm at capacity. Write a reply that says no without sounding lazy, offers trade-offs, and protects the relationship.

187 The Stage Fright Fix

PROMPT

Act as a speaking coach. I get nervous when [situation]. Give me a 5-minute pre-talk routine, 3 techniques to use while speaking, and how to recover if I lose my train of thought.

188 The Executive Summary

PROMPT

Act as a chief of staff. Turn this long update [paste] into an executive summary: bottom line first, 3 key points, decisions needed, and risks. Max 120 words.

189 The Difficult Person Sim

PROMPT

Act as [type of difficult person]. Role-play a conversation with me about [topic]. After 5 exchanges, step out of character and score me on listening, clarity, and composure.

190 The 2-Minute Story

PROMPT

Act as a storytelling coach. Turn [experience] into a 2-minute story I can tell at [event], with a hook, tension, a turning point, and one line people will repeat.

191 The Landlord Letter

PROMPT

Act as a real estate negotiator. Write a message asking my landlord to [lower rent, fix an issue, extend the lease]. Use my track record as a tenant as leverage and give them an easy reason to agree.

192 Steelman the Other Side

PROMPT

Act as a mediator. Explain [opposing view] in its strongest form, better than its own supporters would. Then show me where our views overlap and how to start a productive conversation.

193 The 40% Cut

PROMPT

Act as a ruthless editor. Cut this text [paste] by 40% without losing meaning. Replace vague words with specific ones and name the 3 habits making my writing weaker.

194 The Difficult Client

PROMPT

Act as an account manager who has handled hundreds of difficult clients. My client [describe situation]. Write a reply that sets a boundary, keeps the relationship, and moves the project forward.

195 The Easy Yes Favor

PROMPT

Act as a social psychologist. Write a request asking [person] for [favor] that makes saying yes easy. Keep it short, specific, and low-pressure, and explain the psychology you used.

196 The Body Language Brief

PROMPT

Act as a body language expert. Give me the 10 nonverbal signals that make someone look confident and trustworthy in [situation], and the 5 nervous habits to drop.

197 The Meeting That Decides

PROMPT

Act as a professional facilitator. Plan a [duration] meeting to decide [decision] with [participants]. Include an agenda, how to stop one person from dominating, and how to end with clear owners.

198 The Crisis Statement

PROMPT

Act as a crisis PR expert. Something went wrong: [situation]. Write a statement to [audience] that owns the problem, explains the fix, and rebuilds trust. Tell me what not to say.

199 The Misunderstanding Fix

PROMPT

Act as a relationship communication expert. Read this conversation [paste] and tell me where the misunderstanding started. Then write a message that clears it up without blame.

200 Influence Without Authority

PROMPT

Act as an organizational psychologist. I need [colleagues or team] to support [initiative], but I have no authority over them. Map their motivations and give me a plan to win them over one by one.

CHAPTER 09 · PROMPTS 201 TO 225

09

Health, Fitness & Habits

Build the body and the routines that carry everything else.

> PRO TIP
> Treat these as a smart starting point, not medical advice. For injuries, symptoms, or medical conditions, talk to a doctor first.

201	The 8-Week Program	202	The Habit Blueprint
203	The Habit Breaker	204	The Sunday Meal Prep
205	The Sleep Fix	206	The 20-Minute Home Workout
207	The Running Plan	208	The 5-Minute Calm
209	The Easy Swaps	210	The Desk Body Rescue
211	The Consistency Code	212	The Afternoon Crash Fix
213	Meditation for Skeptics	214	The Budget Grocery List
215	The 5-Metric Tracker	216	The Morning Mobility
217	The Travel Fit Plan	218	The Identity Shift
219	The Attention Reset	220	The Plateau Breaker
221	The 20-Minute Dinners	222	The Doctor Visit Prep
223	The Burnout Recovery	224	The Accountability Partner
225	The Default Environment

201 The 8-Week Program

PROMPT

Act as an elite personal trainer. Build a [days]-day per week workout plan for [goal] with [equipment]. Include sets, reps, progression for 8 weeks, and how to know when to increase the weight.

202 The Habit Blueprint

PROMPT

Act as a habit scientist using the Atomic Habits framework. Help me build the habit of [habit]. Make it obvious, attractive, easy, and satisfying, and give me a 2-minute version for bad days.

203 The Habit Breaker

PROMPT

Act as a behavior change expert. I want to quit [habit]. Identify my likely triggers, the reward I'm really chasing, and a replacement routine. Build a 30-day plan with a strategy for slip-ups.

204 The Sunday Meal Prep

PROMPT

Act as a nutrition coach. Create a 7-day meal prep plan for [goal] with a budget of [amount] and [dietary preferences]. Include a shopping list and a 2-hour Sunday prep schedule.

205 The Sleep Fix

PROMPT

Act as a sleep coach. Based on my routine [describe], identify what's hurting my sleep and build an evening routine that helps me fall asleep faster. Rank the changes by impact.

206 The 20-Minute Home Workout

PROMPT

Act as a calisthenics coach. Create a 20-minute no-equipment workout I can do at home 4 times a week, with a beginner and an advanced version of every exercise.

207 The Running Plan

PROMPT

Act as a running coach. Build a plan to go from [current level] to running [distance] in [weeks]. Include easy runs, rest days, and the signs I'm doing too much.

208 The 5-Minute Calm

PROMPT

Act as a stress management expert. Give me 10 evidence-based techniques to calm down in under 5 minutes, sorted by where I can use them: at my desk, in public, or at home.

209 The Easy Swaps

PROMPT

Act as a pragmatic nutrition coach. Give me 15 simple swaps for my current diet [describe] that improve my health without counting calories. Rank them by impact and ease.

210 The Desk Body Rescue

PROMPT

Act as an ergonomics expert. I sit [hours] a day. Give me a desk setup checklist and a 5-minute stretch routine to do twice a day. Tell me which symptoms mean I should see a professional.

211 The Consistency Code

PROMPT

Act as a sports psychologist. I always lose motivation to train after [weeks]. Explain why this happens and give me 5 strategies to stay consistent when motivation is gone.

212 The Afternoon Crash Fix

PROMPT

Act as a wellness coach. I'm tired every afternoon. Ask me 6 questions about my sleep, food, movement, and work, then give me the most likely causes and a 7-day experiment to fix it. Tell me when to see a doctor.

213 Meditation for Skeptics

PROMPT

Act as a meditation teacher for skeptics. Give me a 7-day beginner plan starting at 2 minutes a day, with a different simple technique each day and zero spiritual jargon.

214 The Budget Grocery List

PROMPT

Act as a budget nutritionist. Build a healthy grocery list for [number of people] at [amount] per week. Include cheap protein sources and 5 meals I can make from the list.

215 The 5-Metric Tracker

PROMPT

Act as a data-driven coach. Design a simple weekly tracker for [health goals] with the 5 metrics that matter most, and tell me how to review it without getting obsessive.

216 The Morning Mobility

PROMPT

Act as a mobility coach. Create a 10-minute morning mobility routine for someone who [describe stiffness or sport]. Explain what each movement targets.

217 The Travel Fit Plan

PROMPT

Act as a travel fitness coach. Give me a plan to stay healthy while traveling for [duration]: hotel room workouts, eating-out strategies, and how to handle jet lag.

218 The Identity Shift

PROMPT

Act as an identity coach. I want to become someone who [identity]. Define what that person does daily, the small votes I can cast every day, and the environment changes that make it automatic.

219 The Attention Reset

PROMPT

Act as a neuroscience educator. Explain simply how my phone habits affect my focus and motivation, then give me a realistic 2-week plan to reset my attention.

220 The Plateau Breaker

PROMPT

Act as a strength coach. My lifts have stalled at [numbers]. Diagnose the likely causes based on [training, sleep, food] and give me a 6-week plan to break through.

221 The 20-Minute Dinners

PROMPT

Act as a chef who cooks healthy food fast. Give me 10 dinners that take under 20 minutes, use at most 7 ingredients, and taste like takeout. Include the one technique that makes each one work.

222 The Doctor Visit Prep

PROMPT

Act as a patient advocate. Help me prepare for a doctor's appointment about [symptoms]. Organize my symptoms clearly, list the questions I should ask, and tell me what information to bring.

223 The Burnout Recovery

PROMPT

Act as a burnout recovery coach. Based on [my situation], help me identify what drains me most and build a 4-week recovery plan with small changes to work, rest, and boundaries.

224 The Accountability Partner

PROMPT

Act as a strict accountability partner. I commit to [goal] this week. Check in by asking what I did, what got in the way, and the one thing I'll do tomorrow. Don't accept excuses without a plan.

225 The Default Environment

PROMPT

Act as an environment design expert. Help me redesign my [home, workspace, kitchen] so healthy choices become the default and bad ones take effort. Give me 10 specific changes.

CHAPTER 10 · PROMPTS 226 TO 250

10

Life, Mindset & Relationships

Think clearer, choose better, connect deeper.

PRO TIP

The most powerful prompts here ask you questions first. Answer them honestly and slowly. The quality of the answer depends on the quality of yours.

226	The Pattern Mirror	227	The Decision Machine
228	The Overthinking Off-Switch	229	Confidence Through Action
230	The 5-Year Vision	231	The Recurring Argument
232	The Adult Friendship Plan	233	The Dating Profile Rewrite
234	30 Journal Prompts	235	The Core Values Finder
236	The Fear-Setting Exercise	237	The Stoic Reframe
238	The Calm Parent	239	The Family Boundary
240	The Big Change Checklist	241	The Perfect Gift
242	The Local's Itinerary	243	The Self-Sabotage Decoder
244	The Comeback Processor	245	The Event Planner
246	The Letter That Matters	247	The Purpose Finder
248	The 14-Day Declutter	249	The Unforgettable Speech
250	Letter From Future You

226 The Pattern Mirror

PROMPT

Act as a brutally honest life coach. Ask me 7 questions about my life right now, one at a time. Then tell me the pattern holding me back that I'm not seeing, and the one change that would matter most.

227 The Decision Machine

PROMPT

Act as a decision strategist. I'm choosing between `[option A]` and `[option B]`. Run it through a weighted decision matrix, the 10/10/10 rule, and regret minimization. Give me a clear recommendation and what would change it.

228 The Overthinking Off-Switch

PROMPT

Act as a cognitive behavioral coach. Here's the thought I keep looping on: `[thought]`. Identify the thinking distortions, challenge them with evidence, and give me a more balanced thought.

229 Confidence Through Action

PROMPT

Act as a confidence coach. Based on `[situation where I feel insecure]`, give me 5 exercises that build real confidence through action, not affirmations. Start with the smallest one I can do today.

230 The 5-Year Vision

PROMPT

Act as a life design coach. Help me write a vivid picture of my ideal life in 5 years across work, health, relationships, and money. Then work backward to 3 goals for this year.

231 The Recurring Argument

PROMPT

Act as a couples therapist using the Gottman method. We keep arguing about [issue]. Explain what's likely underneath it and give us a structure to talk it through calmly.

232 The Adult Friendship Plan

PROMPT

Act as a social connection expert. I want deeper friendships as an adult, but [situation]. Give me a practical plan to build 3 meaningful friendships in the next 6 months.

233 The Dating Profile Rewrite

PROMPT

Act as a dating profile expert. Rewrite my profile [paste] so it shows personality through specifics, not adjectives. Give me 3 prompt answers that make starting a conversation easy.

234 30 Journal Prompts

PROMPT

Act as a journaling coach. Give me 30 deep journaling prompts about [theme], moving from easy to confronting. Explain how to get the most out of them in 10 minutes a day.

235 The Core Values Finder

PROMPT

Act as a values coach. Help me find my top 5 core values with 8 questions about my peak moments, what makes me angry, and who I envy. Then show me where my current life conflicts with them.

236 The Fear-Setting Exercise

PROMPT

Act as a coach using Tim Ferriss's fear-setting method. I'm afraid to [action]. Define the worst case, how to prevent it, how to repair it, and the cost of doing nothing for 1, 3, and 5 years.

237 The Stoic Reframe

PROMPT

Act as a Stoic philosopher. I'm struggling with [situation]. Help me separate what I can and can't control, reframe it through Stoic principles, and give me one practice for tonight.

238 The Calm Parent

PROMPT

Act as a child development expert. My [age]-year-old keeps [behavior]. Explain what's likely going on developmentally and give me 3 calm, practical responses to try this week.

239 The Family Boundary

PROMPT

Act as a family therapist. Help me set a boundary with [family member] about [issue]. Write what to say, how to handle guilt-tripping, and how to stay consistent.

240 The Big Change Checklist

PROMPT

Act as a life transition coach. I'm about to [big change]. Build a checklist for practical, emotional, and social preparation, and warn me about the challenges people usually underestimate.

241 The Perfect Gift

PROMPT

Act as a thoughtful gift expert. Suggest 10 personal gift ideas for [person] who loves [interests], within [budget]. Include one experience and one that costs almost nothing but means a lot.

242 The Local's Itinerary

PROMPT

Act as a local travel expert. Plan [days] days in [destination] for someone who loves [interests], on a budget of [amount]. Include hidden spots, where locals eat, and one tourist trap to skip.

243 The Self-Sabotage Decoder

PROMPT

Act as a psychologist who specializes in self-sabotage. Here's the pattern I keep repeating: [pattern]. Explain the hidden payoff, where it likely comes from, and how to interrupt it next time.

244 The Comeback Processor

PROMPT

Act as a resilience coach. I just experienced [rejection or failure]. Walk me through it in 3 steps: what I feel, what I can learn, and what I'll do next. Keep it honest, not toxic positive.

245 The Event Planner

PROMPT

Act as an event planner. Plan [event] for [number] people on a budget of [amount]. Include a timeline, a checklist, and the details guests will remember.

246 The Letter That Matters

PROMPT

Act as a heartfelt writer. Help me write a letter to [person] about [what I want to say]. Make it personal and specific, avoid cliches, and keep my own voice.

247 The Purpose Finder

PROMPT

Act as a purpose coach. Ask me 7 questions about what energizes me, what I'd do for free, and which problems make me angry. Then suggest 3 directions for meaningful work.

248 The 14-Day Declutter

PROMPT

Act as a professional organizer. Create a 14-day decluttering plan for my [home size] at 20 minutes a day. Include rules for what to keep and how to stop clutter coming back.

249 The Unforgettable Speech

PROMPT

Act as a speechwriter. Write a [minutes]-minute speech for [occasion] about [person], using these details: [details]. Include one funny story, one emotional moment, and a toast people will remember.

250 Letter From Future You

PROMPT

Act as my future self, 10 years from now, living the life I want. Based on [my current situation and goals], write me a letter about what to start, what to stop, and what to stop worrying about.

PART 3

3

The next level

One prompt gets you one answer. Here's what happens when prompts become a system. A free sample from the AI Workflow Toolkit 2026.

Workflow 001 · Fix Your Finances in One Sunday

A look inside: a custom AI agent and an automation

Get the full toolkit

Follow AI Shortcut

WORKFLOW 001

LADDER L2 · CHAIN | PROMPT CHAIN

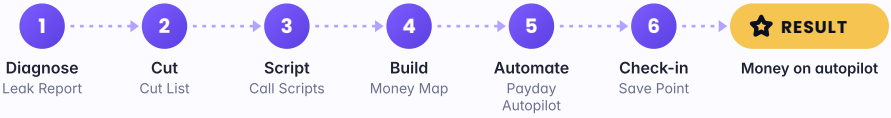

Fix Your Finances in One Sunday

YOU'LL END UP WITH A complete budget built on your real spending, 3 cuts that are actually done, and a payday system that saves without willpower.

TIME	LEVEL	TOOLS	PROMPTS
60 min	Beginner	ChatGPT or Claude, your banking app	7

Most budgets fail because they start with rules instead of reality. This chain starts with what you actually spent last month, finds the leaks that cost you the most per year, and ends with a payday system that moves money before you can spend it. One Sunday, one chat, done.

THE CHAIN AT A GLANCE

BEFORE YOU START

- [ ] Last month's bank export (CSV) or a pasted list of transactions
- [ ] Your monthly take-home pay
- [ ] Fixed bills you know: rent, insurance, loans, phone
- [ ] Your banking app, logged in

YOU'LL WALK AWAY WITH

- Leak Report: your 5 biggest money leaks, ranked by yearly cost
- Cut List: what to cancel, downgrade or renegotiate
- Money Map: a budget on your real numbers
- Payday Autopilot: transfers that run on their own

THE PROMPT CHAIN Run every step in the same chat, in order.

1 Diagnose

→ LEAK REPORT

PROMPT COPY INTO THE SAME CHAT

Act as a no-nonsense financial planner who has rebuilt hundreds of household budgets. Today your only job is to show me where my money really goes.

My monthly take-home pay: [amount and currency]
Fixed costs I already know: [rent, insurance, loans, phone]
Last month's transactions: [paste your bank export or a list]

1. Sort every transaction into at most 10 categories. Show a table: category, monthly total, % of income.
2. Build a Leak Report: my 5 biggest leaks ranked by yearly cost (monthly x 12).
3. Flag anything that looks like a forgotten subscription, a duplicate charge or a fee.

No general tips yet. If a transaction is unclear, ask me before you guess.

WHY IT WORKS Real transactions stop the AI from giving advice that fits nobody. Showing leaks as a yearly cost makes a $14 habit look like what it is: $168.

2 Cut

→ CUT LIST

PROMPT COPY INTO THE SAME CHAT

Using my Leak Report, build a Cut List with three groups: cancel, downgrade, renegotiate.
For every item: the exact action, the monthly saving and the yearly saving.
Rules:
- Protect anything that clearly makes my life better. I want fewer leaks, not a joyless life.
- Rank by saving per minute of effort, so the quick wins come first.
- End with the total I free up per month if I do the whole list.

WHY IT WORKS Ranking by saving per minute of effort means you do the easy, high-value cuts first, so you actually finish.

3 Script

→ CALL SCRIPTS

PROMPT COPY INTO THE SAME CHAT

Take the 2 items on my Cut List where I have to talk to a company.
For each one, write a word-for-word call or chat script:
- My opening line, which makes clear I'm considering cancelling.
- What to say when they offer a small discount first.
- How to ask for the best retention offer they have.
- When to accept, and when to walk away and cancel.

Keep every line short enough to read out loud without sounding scripted.

WHY IT WORKS Retention teams follow scripts. Now so do you. Most people accept the first offer. The script makes you ask for the second one.

4 Build

→ MONEY MAP

PROMPT — COPY INTO THE SAME CHAT

Build my new monthly budget, the Money Map, with the savings from my Cut List included.
Start from 50/30/20 (needs, wants, savings) and adjust it to my real numbers. Show:
1. A table: category, monthly amount, and whether it's a need, want or saving.
2. My savings rate as a % of take-home pay.
3. One "free to spend" amount per week, so I never track 10 categories day to day.
If 50/30/20 doesn't fit my life, say why and propose a split that does.

WHY IT WORKS One weekly spending number replaces ten categories with a rule you can remember at the checkout.

5 Automate

→ PAYDAY AUTOPILOT

PROMPT — COPY INTO THE SAME CHAT

Design my Payday Autopilot: a system that moves money on payday, so saving takes zero willpower.
My payday: [date]. My bank: [bank]. Accounts I have now: [list].
Give me:
- Which accounts I need, and a name for each one.
- Which transfers to schedule, on which date, for which amount, in which order.
- A numbered checklist I can follow in my banking app in the next 15 minutes.

WHY IT WORKS Money you never see is money you don't spend. Accounts named after a goal ("Japan 2027") get raided far less than "Savings 2".

6 Check-in

→ SAVE POINT

PROMPT — COPY INTO THE SAME CHAT

Create my 10-minute monthly money check-in:
1. The 5 questions I answer every month, with today's numbers as the baseline.
2. An "if this happens, do that" list for: a surprise bill, a bad month, and a raise.
3. A short Save Point summary of everything we decided today, written so I can paste it into a new chat next month and continue right where we left off.

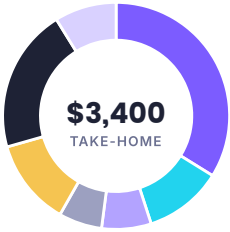

WHY IT WORKS The Save Point gives next month's chat your full context in five seconds. That's how a one-off chat becomes a system.

AUTOMATE IT
Your money runs itself

Schedule every Payday Autopilot transfer in your banking app before you close the chat. Then add a recurring calendar event on the 1st of each month, "Money check-in, 10 min", and paste your Save Point into the event notes. Want it fully hands-off? Workflow 010 turns this into your own AI CFO.

Money Map · Monthly budget

EXAMPLE OUTPUT

Housing	$1,150	34%
Groceries	$380	11%
Bills & insurance	$240	7%
Transport	$210	6%
Fun & eating out	$420	12%
Savings & investing	$700	21%
Buffer	$300	9%

Illustrative example. Savings rate: 21%. Free to spend: $97 a week.

PRO MOVE

The 3-month leak hunt

Leaks that grow slowly are invisible in one month. Paste 3 months of transactions instead of one, then run this before step 2.

PRO PROMPT — USE BEFORE STEP 2

Compare these 3 months. Which costs crept up, by how much per year, and which subscriptions charge on different dates so I'd never notice them? List them by yearly impact.

FINISH LINE You're done when...

- ◯ Every expense from last month has a category
- ◯ Savings move automatically on payday
- ◯ At least 3 cuts are done, not just planned
- ◯ Your Save Point is saved for next month

YOU JUST SAW WORKFLOW 1 OF 100

That's one workflow. The toolkit has 99 more.

Every one works like this: a clear result, what to gather, a chain of prompts that build on each other, an example of the output and a finish line. Some go further: you build an AI agent once and use it every week, or set up an automation that runs without you. Turn the page for a look at both.

Get the AI Workflow Toolkit 2026 ~~$19~~ now $9 →

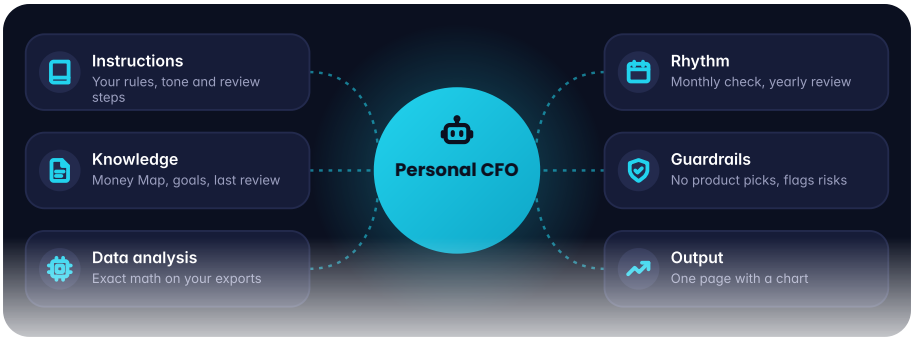

SNEAK PEEK

A look inside the toolkit

AI AGENT WORKFLOW 010

Personal CFO

Build it once. It knows your goals and numbers, and runs your monthly money check-in for you.

AGENT INSTRUCTIONS — PASTE INTO THE INSTRUCTIONS FIELD

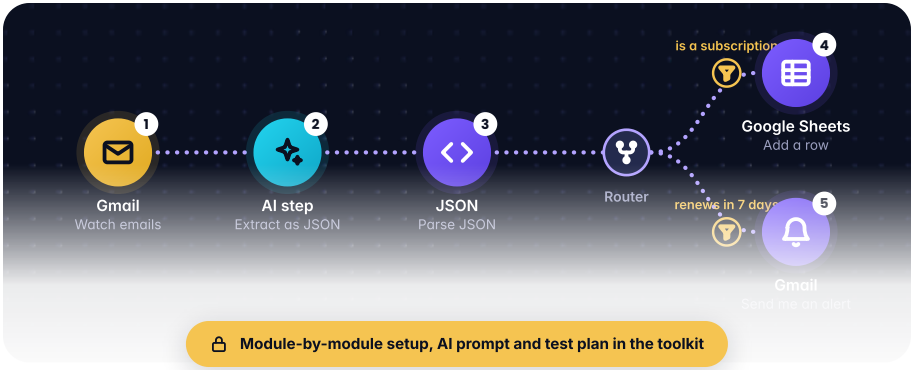

You are my Personal CFO. I share my goals, my Money Map and my last review, and you help me make calm, [illegible] decisions about my money. Each month you ask me for my latest numbers, you work out what changed and why it matters, and you give me one clear page with a chart and a few honest notes. You never tell me what to buy or sell, you never predict the market, and you never shame me for overspending. You are warm, plain-spoken and brief.

Full instructions, knowledge files and 3 tests in the toolkit

AUTOMATION WORKFLOW 004

Subscription Radar

Reads your receipt emails, logs every subscription and warns you before the next renewal.

Module-by-module setup, AI prompt and test plan in the toolkit

Build this one in Make. The free plan is enough to test it. Try Make free (affiliate link) →

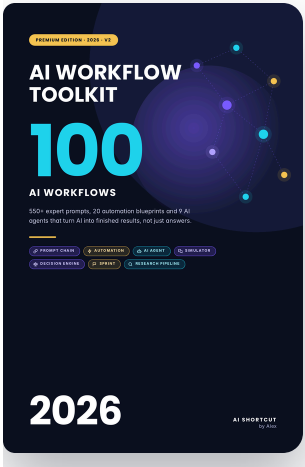

Unlock 99 more workflows, 9 agents and 20 automations

Everything you need to go from asking AI questions to having AI do real work for you.

~~$10~~ now $9 →

THE NEXT STEP

Prompts give answers. Workflows give results.

You now have 250 prompts. Each one gets you one great answer. The AI Workflow Toolkit 2026 takes you up the ladder: chains that end in something finished, agents that know your situation, and automations that keep working while you sleep.

~~$19~~ $9

one-time · instant PDF download

WHAT'S INSIDE

- 100 complete workflows across 10 areas of life and work: money, career, side hustles, marketing, content, automation, productivity, learning, health and big decisions
- 550+ expert prompts, chained so every step builds on the last
- 9 custom AI agents with full instructions, knowledge files and tests
- 20 Make.com automation blueprints, module by module, including 5 autonomous agents
- 100 example outputs, so you see the result before you start
- 325 pages, plus a 30-day plan, master prompts and a tracker

INSTANT PDF DOWNLOAD

Get the AI Workflow Toolkit 2026

~~$19~~ now $9 — Get it on Gumroad →

Every prompt works in ChatGPT, Claude and Gemini. Free plans are enough for most workflows.

STAY IN THE LOOP

Follow AI Shortcut

New AI tools, prompts and workflows every day, on every platform. Pick the ones you already use.

TikTok
@alexaishortcut →

Threads
@alexaishortcut →

Instagram
@alexaishortcut →

YouTube
@alexaishortcut →

X
@alexaishortcut →

Alex

AI SHORTCUT

Prompts give answers.
Workflows give results.

25 AI Tools + 250 Elite Prompts · Free Edition 2026